To Whom it May Concern:

RE: Letter of Reference for Brett Hales

I'm writing this letter of reference for and on behalf of Brett Hales in the capacity as a construction manager. I worked with him on a construction project a few years ago. The project involved the building of a gymnasium and wrestling room addition to our South Sevier High School.

During the construction process, I found Brett to be an excellent manager/supervisor of the construction process. I also noticed that he had an outstanding eye for the quality control aspect of the job and would make sure that not only did the job meet the expectations and requirements of the drawings, but that it was functional and complete when the job was done. There was very little need to finish up punch list items because of his attention to detail during the construction process; simply put, he made sure things got done when they should have been done. Another key attribute that I recognized was that Brett had the ability to multi-task the various operations and disciplines of the job, yet still kept each sub-contractor on task in a sequential manner so that the overall job was handled efficiently with little or no lost time, due to something not being done when it was supposed to be.

I found Brett to be honest and an individual with great character, outstanding attributes, and values, which are a credit to him and family.

I would highly recommend Brett in any capacity.

Respectfully,
